Staying ahead of the curve

Adapting and evolving with our clients is a hallmark of our service. From building technology systems in-house to integrating with the newest benefit platforms, we are always looking for ways to stay ahead of the curve.

Technology at a glance

Solutions	Features
LifeBenefitsExtra web site for benefits staff	• Daily Evidence of Insurability (EOI) and claim status updates and weekly activity reports • Online information about coverage, premium and beneficiaries • Forms library offering plan-specific forms
LifeBenefits web site for employees	• Enroll online and complete EOI online using real-time underwriting response • View plan information, coverage amounts, premium, profiles and beneficiary designations • View contributions and loan balances in cash value plans • Change profiles, beneficiary designations or cash value contributions
Beneficiary management system	• Enter and track beneficiary information online • Ensures changes comply with unique state laws and irrevocable beneficiary designations
Real-time underwriting response	• In less than 60 seconds, applicants know if their application is approved • Schedule paramedical exams online, if required
Online enrollment	• Make initial enrollment and future changes online • Coverage requiring underwriting will use real-time underwriting response
Stand-alone EOI	• Submit EOI online using real-time underwriting response • Keeps employees' medical information private and increases accuracy
Single sign-on	• Links employer's secure benefits system and our benefits management web site providing a seamless experience for employees • Eliminates need for separate employee log-in information
Targeted Integrated Marketing (TIM)	• Personalized employee enrollment kits using print-on-demand technology
eClaims	• Provides online claim notices to expedite payment
Document delivery	• Receive plan documents, such as quarterly statements and prospectuses online

Ready when you are

Not all technologies may make sense for every plan. We will work with you to understand your current processes and determine what technology solutions may be right for your plan.
